

<http://www.driftsurfing.eu/things-you-should-know-about-airline-baggage-fees/>

TRAVEL

The things you should know about airline baggage fees

A must read for any surfer who travels for his fix. This is the definitive list of airlines across the globe and how they charge for your beloved ride.

Unfortunately surfboards are big and cumbersome, that is the reality. As a result taking your board away with you can smack a huge dent in your wallet. While some airlines are pretty straight forward with their policy, more often than not you have to read the small print to work out what the deal is.

Even talking to the airline on the phone doesn't always reveal the truth with different operators spinning different yarns. your mouth when you arrive to check-in, never quite knowing if you have jumped through all of the hoops that airlines r

All that can end right now though thanks to the hard work of LUEX Surf Travel who have painstakingly trawled through every airline imaginable to deliver this smart alphabetically ordered list. Simply check which airlines fly to your destinati

Unfortunately airlines are free (and probably quite likely) to change their baggage policy whenever they like, so we would everything for yourself first!

Here is the definitive list...

Airline	Accept Surfboards?	Cost	Details	More Information
---------	--------------------	------	---------	------------------

GEAR	PHOTOGRAPHY	INTERVIEWS	VIDEOS	ENVIRONMENT	TRAVEL	ART	ASP	WIN
Aeroflot	Yes		Free – €150		Whilst not explicitly listed, one board bag should count as part of your free baggage allowance, as with bikes/skis/snowboards. However you must call Aeroflot to request carriage.			Extra pieces, or oversize/overweight baggage will be charged.
Aer Lingus	Yes		Free – €30/€40		Boards are carried free on flights to/from North America, or for €30 (each direction) to all other destinations if paid in advance; €40 if paid at the airport.			Max board length 9 foot, or max 6.7 on regional flights
Aero Mexico	Yes		$40 – $50 USD		$40 if paid on advance, $50 if paid at the airport
Air Asia	Yes		Varies		Book online for a 50% discount and the option to add 15-40kg extra weight. Paying at the airport costs more and limits you to 20kg extra weight.			Max board length 9 foot
Air Berlin	Yes		Free		1 board bag can be carried as your free baggage allowance			You must notify the airline that you'll be taking a board at least 48 hours before your flight, and it must be packed in a suitable case. If you exceed the number of pieces in your free baggage allowance, you will need to pay a fee of €50-75. No sports baggage on JustFly tickets.

GEAR	PHOTOGRAPHY	INTERVIEWS	VIDEOS	ENVIRONMENT	TRAVEL	ART	ASP	WIN
Air Canada	Yes		$50 USD/CAD	While surfboards that fit within the dimensions can be counted as your free baggage allowance, you must pay a handling charge per board (NOT per bag) each direction.				Boards must be under 203cm long, and less than 277cm total (length + width + height)
Air China	Yes		Free - $150+ USD	Board bags can be carried as free checked luggage if total linear dimensions (length + width + height) are less than 158cms.				If your board exceeds 158cm total liner length then you must pay an oversize baggage charge. Charge varies by route, size and weight, but expect to pay minimum $150 USD
Air France	Yes		€55-100	Boards from 107-300cm long can be carried, with a fee of €55-€100 each way depending on route.				You must notify the customer service department prior to flying, and the fee can only be paid at the airport.

GEAR	PHOTOGRAPHY	INTERVIEWS	VIDEOS	ENVIRONMENT	TRAVEL	ART	ASP	WIN
Air India	Yes		Varies		You will be charged 50% of the normal excess baggage fee for the route.			We advise you to call the customer service department to confirm fees when booking your flight.
Air Malta	Yes		€30		In principal surf equipment can be carried in addition to your free baggage allowance, but we recommend that you confirm with the customer service department when booking.
Air Mauritius	Yes		Free - €200		If total linear size (length + width + height) is under 2000cms and weight is under 23kg, you can take a board bag for free.			Fee, when applicable, varies by route - ranging from €55 - €200 each way.
Air New Zealand	Yes		Free		Board bags up to 2 metres in length are permitted as your free baggage allowance, and multiple boards are allowed in one bag.			200cm is generally the maximum length allowed, but some items up to 250cm long can be taken by prior arrangement.
Air Pacific	Yes		Varies		Items up to total linear dimensions of 277cm can be carried, but fee (and currency) varies depending on route and final destination.			Expect to pay approximately 50-100 AUD

GEAR	PHOTOGRAPHY	INTERVIEWS	VIDEOS	ENVIRONMENT	TRAVEL	ART	ASP	WIN
Air Seychelles	Yes	Free		Boards up to 158cm and 15kg can be carried free of charge		Boards must be packed appropriately, and you must sign a waiver that Air Seychelles is not liable for damage
Air Tahiti Nui	Yes	Free		Boards up to 250cm and 23kg can be carried free, in addition to standard checked baggage allowance
Air Vanuatu	Depends on plane	Free		As part of your free checked baggage allowance, boards up to 250cms can be carried free on international flights, and boards up to 150cms can be carried free on most domestic flights. Some smaller planes on certain routes cannot take surfboards.		Call airline to check which plane flies on your route
Alaska Air	Yes	$25 USD		One board bag with up to two boards can be carried for the standard checked luggage fee. Size permissible depends on route.		On Alaska Airlines flights 1-999 the equipment may measure a maximum 115" (9 ft., 7 in.) in length alone. On Alaska Airlines flights 2000-2999 and 3440-3499 the maximum combined linear dimensions (height +

GEAR	PHOTOGRAPHY	INTERVIEWS	VIDEOS	ENVIRONMENT	TRAVEL	ART	ASP	WIN
								length + width) may not exceed 115".
Alitalia		Depends on route	€75 – $260 USD		Boards up to 300cm can normally be carried for a fee, though the amount and currency depends on route.			You must call the airline when booking the flight, as not all planes can take surfboards.
American Airlines		Yes	$42.50 – 150 USD		Boards up to 320cm total linear dimensions incur a fee of $150 USD, other than flights to/from/through Brazil.			When travelling to/from /through Brazil, the first board is charged at $42.50 USD, and subsequent boards at $85 USD.
Ana		Yes	Varies		If within your free checked baggage, boards up to 203cm total linear dimensions travel free. If the board is in addition to your normal checked baggage allowance, you will have to pay a fee (varies on route), but calculated by weight rather than size.			Fees depend on route, and not all planes can accommodate boards. Please call the airline when booking.

GEAR	PHOTOGRAPHY	INTERVIEWS	VIDEOS	ENVIRONMENT	TRAVEL	ART	ASP	WIN
Arikair	Yes		Varies		Surf boards are can be carried, but are subject to a fee, depending on route.			You must call the airline when booking flights.
Asiana	Yes		Free		If within the weight limit and number of pieces stipulated in the free baggage allowance, one surfboard can be carried for free. No extra charges for oversize board bags, but extra charges will apply to overweight bags.
Austrian Air	Yes		€50-100		Boards up to 2m in length can be transported for €50 each way within Europe, or for €100 each way on intercontinental flights.			You must call the airline when booking the flight, as not all planes can take surfboards.
Avianca El Salvador	Yes		$50-125 USD		You can take one board bag containing up to 3 boards (up to 370cm long and weighing up to 32kg) for $50 USD if travelling to/from Brazil, or $125 USD if travelling to/form America.			A board bag can be taken on certain routes to/from America for $100 USD.
Azul	Yes		Free		If within your checked baggage allowance and under 23kg, a board can be taken for free.

GEAR	PHOTOGRAPHY	INTERVIEWS	VIDEOS	ENVIRONMENT	TRAVEL	ART	ASP	WIN
Bahamas Air	Yes		$65 USD		A board bag up to 203cm is permitted, but will incur a fee of $65 USD			The board must be securely packed in an appropriate bag
Bel Avia	Yes		Free		As long as the combined weight is under that stipulated in the free baggage allowance (varies by ticket class), 1 surfboard can be carried for free			No more than 1 board can be taken
Blue Wing Airlines	Maybe		Varies		Ticket price is calculated by personal weight and the weight of your baggage.			You should contact the airline directly when booking your flight.
BMI Regional	Yes		Free – £30/€45		One board can be carried free if within checked baggage allowances, or at an additional cost of £30/€45 if not (up to 20kg extra) per sector.			Any item between 21-32kg will be charged an additional fixed fee of £30/€45 per sector.
British Airways	Yes		Free		One board bag up to a maximum size of 190cm x 75cm x 65cm and weight of 23kg can be carried as your free checked allowance.			Board must be packed in a recognisable surfboard bag.

GEAR	PHOTOGRAPHY	INTERVIEWS	VIDEOS	ENVIRONMENT	TRAVEL	ART	ASP	WIN
Brunei Air	Yes	Varies		Baggage with total linear dimensions of over 147cm are charged by volumetric equivalent weight, though the airline waives the first 5kg for surfboards.		You should contact the airline directly when booking your flight.
Brussels Airlines	Yes	Free		Provided it fits within your free checked baggage allowance, a surfboard can be taken free of charge.
Cape Air	Depends on route	Varies		Not all planes can accommodate surfboards. You must call the airline when booking a flight.
Carpat Air	Yes	$75		Surfboards incur a $75 charge, per board.		You must call the airline when booking to reserve space for your board.
Cathay Pacific	Yes	Varies		Fee varies by route. You can take boards free of charge on some routes, and between Hong Kong and Doha even receive an extra 10kg weight allowance. Free baggage allowance also varies by route; where free baggage allowance is calculated purely by total weight, boards may travel free if within restrictions. On routes where free baggage allowance is calculated by pieces and dimensions, an extra fee is payable, though costs vary by starting point and destination.		You should contact the airline directly when booking your flight.

GEAR

PHOTOGRAPHY

INTERVIEWS

VIDEOS

ENVIRONMENT

TRAVEL

ART

ASP

WIN

Cayman Airways

Possibly

Varies

Some sporting items can be carried as part of free baggage limit, irrespective of size, though surfboards aren't explicitly named. Fees of $150 USD normally apply to items over 157cm total dimensions, up to a maximum of 203cm.

You should contact the airline directly when booking your flight, and obtain written permission.

China Airlines

Yes

Varies

In general boards cannot be carried as part of the free baggage allowance. Boards up to 277cms total dimensions will be charged at 100% of the applicable excess baggage, while larger boards will be charged at 150% of the fee. The fee applies per board.

The exceptions are flights to/from/within the SW Pacific, where boards can be counted as part of your free baggage allowance. If they exceed the free allowance, a board up to 277cm total dimensions will be charged at the applicable rate for 5kg of excess baggage, or 8kgs if larger than 277cm.

GEAR

PHOTOGRAPHY

INTERVIEWS

VIDEOS

ENVIRONMENT

TRAVEL

ART

ASP

WIN

China Eastern

Yes

Varies

Surfboards are not included in the free checked baggage allowance, and will be charged 50% of the applicable fee if not exceeding 277cm total dimensions, or 100% of the applicable fee if larger. Only one board per passenger is entitled to the 50% special rate. Any additional boards will be charged at the applicable excess baggage charge (by weight): one board up to 277cm total linear dimensions will be charged at the applicable rate of 5kg of excess baggage, or one board exceeding 277cm will be charged at the applicable rate of 8kg of excess baggage.

Please note that the special rate is not applicable to passengers travelling to / from / within the following countries in South West Pacific:

American Samoa, Australia, Cook Islands, Fiji, French Polynesia, Kiribati (Canton and Enderbury Islands), Nauru, New Caledonia (including Loyalty Islands), New Zealand, Niue, Papua New Guinea, Samoa, Solomon Islands, Tonga, Tuvalu, Vanuatu, and Wallis and Futuna Islands.

China Southern

Yes

Varies

Fee varies by route and number of boards, but you must obtain permission from the airline to transport a surfboard at the time of booking.

GEAR	PHOTOGRAPHY	INTERVIEWS	VIDEOS	ENVIRONMENT	TRAVEL	ART	ASP	WIN
Condor	Yes		$65-78 USD	Boards must be pre-registered with the airline. A fee of $65 USD applies if registered 30 or more days before the flight, or $78 USD if registered within 30 days of the flight.
Copa Air	Yes		$50-100 USD	One board bag with up to two boards can be carried for $100 USD to all destinations other than São Paulo and San Jose, where only $50 USD is charged.
Corsairfly	Yes		Varies	Surfboards can be taken free of charge if within the applicable free baggage weight and dimensions, which vary by route.	You should check the exact fee with the airline when booking a flight.
Croatia Airlines	Yes		Free	One board up to 200cm can be carried as part of your free baggage allowance, but you must notify the airline when booking.
Czech Airlines	Yes		Varies	A board can be carried for free if within the applicable weight and size restrictions on free baggage allowance, or fee a fee if larger. You must notify the airline at the time of booking.
Delta	Yes		$100-150 USD/CAD or €105	Two boards can be carried on one bag for $100 USD when travelling to/from Brazil, or for $150 USD/CAD or €105 to all other destinations

GEAR	PHOTOGRAPHY	INTERVIEWS	VIDEOS	ENVIRONMENT	TRAVEL	ART	ASP	WIN
Easyjet	Yes	£35		One surfboard bag can be carried for £35 per flight.				If the surfboard bag is your sole checked luggage, it can weigh up to 32kg. If it is in addition to other checked baggage, you receive an extra 12kg weight allowance
Egypt Air	Yes	Varies		One surfboard up to 200cm can be taken as checked baggage, but is not included in the free baggage allowance. Fees will be calculated as 50% of applicable excess baggage rate.
Emirates	Yes	Varies		Board bags up to 300cm total dimensions can be carried, at the applicable oversize baggage fee for the route				No items exceeding 300cm total dimensions can be carried, with no exceptions.
Etihad	Yes	Free		Boards up to 300cm can be transported for free
Ethiopian Airways	Yes	Varies		Boards up to 200cm can be transported for €40 within Europe or €80 on intercontinental flights. Boards over 200cm are subject to a fee of €80 on European flights or €160 on intercontinental flights.
Finnair	Yes	Free – €150		Boards under 190cm long and 23kg can be carried free if within checked baggage allowances, otherwise (and for larger boards) a fee of €150 applies.

GEAR	PHOTOGRAPHY	INTERVIEWS	VIDEOS	ENVIRONMENT	TRAVEL	ART	ASP	WIN
First Air	Yes		$70 USD	Boards with linear dimensions (length + width + height) of 161 to 292 comes are subject to a $70.00 excess charge.
Flybe	Yes		£30	In principle boards can be carried for a few of £30, though size is restricted on certain routes.	You must call the airline when booking to reserve space for your board.
Frontier Airlines	Yes		Varies	Boards can be carried, subject to the applicable fee depending on route and travel class.	You should check the exact fee with the airline when booking a flight.
Garuda Indonesia	Yes		Free	Surfboards can be carried free within the checked baggage allowance applicable to your ticket	We advise you to call the customer service department to confirm fees when booking your flight.
Georgian Airways	Yes		Free	Normally baggage must be under 158cm linear dimensions, but surfboards are listed as an exception. Any excess fees should be calculated by weight.	Check fees and size restrictions with airline when booking.
German Wings	Yes		€50	Surfboards can be carried, but are subject to a fee of €50	Boards must be pre-booked with the customer service department

GEAR	PHOTOGRAPHY	INTERVIEWS	VIDEOS	ENVIRONMENT	TRAVEL	ART	ASP	WIN
Go Air	Yes		Varies	Surfboards can normally be carried, possibly subject to an oversize baggage fee. You must call the airline to confirm fees when booking.
Gulf Air	Yes		Free	Board bags up to 190cm and 32kg can be carried free as your checked baggage allowance.
Hawaiian Airlines	Yes		Free – $150 USD	Two boards up to 292cm can be carried in one bag. Fees vary by route, ranging from free (to Australia and New Zealand) to $150 USD	Due to limited space in some planes you must contact the customer service department to reserve space
Iberia	Yes		$60 USD – €150/$150 USD	Boards up to 250cm can be carried for a fee of €150/$150 USD, with the exception of flights to/from Brazil, where only $60 USD is charged	Carriage is subject to available space, so you must contact the airline at the time of booking
Iceland Air	Yes		€62 – €87	Price varies between routes flying to/from Iceland, Europe and North America	You must pre-book your surfboard
Interjet	Yes		Free	Boards are free, up to 50kg

GEAR	PHOTOGRAPHY	INTERVIEWS	VIDEOS	ENVIRONMENT	TRAVEL	ART	ASP	WIN
Japan Airlines	Yes		$50-150 USD		Price varies between routes			Up to two boards can be taken per board bag
Jet2	Yes		€39 per flight		Max length 182cms			You must pre-book your surfboard
Jetblue	Yes		$50 USD		$50 USD each way, one board per case, counts as one piece of your checked baggage allowance			No size restrictions, but must be under 100lbs
Jetstar	Yes		Free		Counts as one of your checked baggage pieces			Surfboards, (including the surfboard bag), must not exceed 1.9 metres for Jetstar flights operated by an A320, A321 or B737 aircraft, and 2.77 meters for Jetstar flights operated by an A330 or 787 aircraft.
Kenya Airways	Yes		Varies		Surfboards over 107cm long must ALWAYS be pre-booked. A charge will always apply, but it varies by route.
KLM	Yes		€55-100		Fee varies by route. Boards 107-300cm long must always be pre-booked.			In most cases the board bag will count as your only piece of checked luggage.

GEAR	PHOTOGRAPHY	INTERVIEWS	VIDEOS	ENVIRONMENT	TRAVEL	ART	ASP	WIN
Kulula	Yes	Free		Boards up to 190 x 75 x 65 cm travel free				Anything over 20kg will be charged extra, but you can easily add extra weight and pieces to your allowance
LAN Airlines	Yes	Free		Boards up to 300 linear cm travel free
Lion Air	Yes	200,000 IDR		We recommend you call the airline to confirm board carriage when booking your flight
LOT Polish Airlines	Yes	€12-100		Fee varies depending on route, from €12 for domestic flights to €100 for intercontinental flights.				You must call to confirm board carriage before your flight, as not all planes are large enough to accommodate then
Lufthansa	Yes	€50-100		Boards up to 2m can be allowed on continental flights for a fee of €50, or on intercontinental for a fee of €100				You must call the airline to register your sports baggage before flying
Luxair	Yes	€50		€50 per flight, up to 30kgs allowed
Malaysia Airlines	Yes	Free		1 board up to 2.5m will be carried free of charge, if within your free checked baggage limits

GEAR	PHOTOGRAPHY	INTERVIEWS	VIDEOS	ENVIRONMENT	TRAVEL	ART	ASP	WIN
Mango Airlines	Yes		Free	You must call before booking to ensure there is sufficient room in the aircraft hold for your board
MEA	Yes		Free	First item of sporting equipment (up to 20kg) travels free of charge	Due to different regulations over different routes, we advise confirming carriage with the airline when booking
Meridiana	Yes		€90-190	Fees vary by route, with a charge of €90 for domestic flights, €100 for international and €190 for intercontinental
Monarch	Yes		£24.99/€29.99	Boards up to 182cms can fly for a fee of £24.99, which entitles you to an extra 20kg weight allowance
Nauru Airlines	No
Oman Air	Yes		Varies	You must call the airline when booking, as not all planes can take boards, and charges vary by route and class
Penair	Yes		Minimum $50 USD	You must call the airline when booking, as it's likely that you board must travel as cargo	Fees vary by route

GEAR	PHOTOGRAPHY	INTERVIEWS	VIDEOS	ENVIRONMENT	TRAVEL	ART	ASP	WIN
Airlines	Yes	1120 PHP			you to an extra 15kg weight allowance
Qantas	Yes	Free			Boards up to 277cm and 32kg can travel free as part of your checked baggage allowance
Qatar Airways	Yes	Free			1 board bag up to 32kg can be carried free as part of your checked baggage allowance
Royal Jordanian	Yes	$30-200 USD			Surfboards never travel free, and fee varies by route
Ryanair	Yes	€50/£50		€50/£50 per flight, up to 20kg		We recommend you call the airline to confirm when booking
Saudi Airlines	Yes	$130-440 USD		Surfboards incur an extra fee, which varies by route		You should call the airline to check fees on your route when booking
Singapore Air	Yes	Varies		Surfboards can be carried free if within size limits, which vary by route		We advise you to call the customer service department to confirm fees when booking your flight.
Sky West	Maybe	Varies by route			You must call the airline when booking, as not all planes can take boards, and charges vary by route and class

GEAR	PHOTOGRAPHY	INTERVIEWS	VIDEOS	ENVIRONMENT	TRAVEL	ART	ASP	WIN
Solomon Airlines	Maybe		Varies by route	You must call the airline when booking, as not all planes can take boards, and charges vary by route and class
South African Airways	Yes		Varies	On most routes boards under 200cms fly free, if within the free baggage allowance	You should call the airline to check fees on your route when booking
SouthWest	Yes		$75 USD	Boards travel for $75 USD each way	You should call the airline to check fees on your route when booking
Srilankan Airways	Yes		Varies	Free if within the checked baggage limit (32kg)	Exceeding the checked baggage allowance on your route will incur fees, and we advise to call the airline to check costs when booking
Sriuijaye Air	Maybe		Varies	Surfboards should be free if under 20kg, but we advise you to confirm this with the airline when booking
Suncountry	Yes		$75 USD	Max length 5 foot
Sunwing Airlines	Yes		€80-100	Fee varies by route, but you should pre-book your board with the airline

GEAR	PHOTOGRAPHY	INTERVIEWS	VIDEOS	ENVIRONMENT	TRAVEL	ART	ASP	WIN
TAP Portugal	Yes	€35-75			MUST be pre-booked with the airline
Thai Airways	Yes	Varies by route			Can be included in checked baggage allowance if flying to/from Australia/New Zealand, otherwise fees vary by route		You should call the airline to check fees on your route when booking
Tiger Airways	Yes	Varies			Surfboards under 190cm and 10kg can be included in checked baggage
Transavia	Yes	Free			Boards can be transported free, but you are NOT allowed to store clothes/etc in the bag		You must call the airline to pre-book your sports baggage before flying
United	Yes	$150-200 USD			The service charge for a surfboard, wakeboard or paddleboard is $150 (each way) for travel between the U.S., Canada, Puerto Rico and the U.S. Virgin Islands, and $200 (each way) for all other travel.
US Airways	Yes	$150 USD			Boards can be transported for $150 PER BOARD		You must call the airline when booking the flight, as not all planes can take surfboards.

GEAR	PHOTOGRAPHY	INTERVIEWS	VIDEOS	ENVIRONMENT	TRAVEL	ART	ASP	WIN
Virgin America	Yes		Normally $50USD		Boards are normally transported for $50, but oversize weight fees can apply, varying by route			You should call the airline to check fees on your route when booking
Virgin Atlantic	Yes		Free		Boards under 23kg and 277cm fly for free, IN ADDITION to your normal checked baggage allowance
Virgin Australia	Yes		Varies		Boards can be included within your free checked baggage allowance, but dimensions vary by route and plane			You must call to confirm board carriage before your flight, as not all planes are large enough to accommodate them.
Viva Aerobus	Yes		400-550 MXN		Fees for boards vary by route and how/when you pay – we advise to call the airline when booking
Volaris	Yes		Free		Free if under 2m and within the checked baggage allowance of your route and class			We advise you to call the customer service department to confirm fees when booking your flight.
Vueling	Yes		€45		Boards travel for €45 each way			You must pre-book your sports baggage before flying

GEAR	PHOTOGRAPHY	INTERVIEWS	VIDEOS	ENVIRONMENT	TRAVEL	ART	ASP	WIN
Westjet	Yes	Varies		Boards under 3m can be carried, but all applicable excess/oversize baggage fees will be applied		We advise you to call the customer service department to confirm fees when booking your flight.
Wizz Air	Yes	€30-80		Boards can be carried, but fees vary by route, class and season
Yemenia	Maybe	Varies		We recommend you call the airline to confirm board carriage and fees when booking your flight

GEAR

PHOTOGRAPHY

INTERVIEWS

VIDEOS

ENVIRONMENT

TRAVEL

ART

ASP

WIN

Lead the Rebels to victory in a Galaxy far, far away...

Things you didn't know about Bob...

New

A related discussion you may enjoy

Treat Yo' Self: Splurging When You Travel

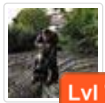

Lvl 5

By Avery Schwartz, A transplant from South Jersey to rural Japan. Cooking, eating, traveling, a... \(more\)

CNN's travel section has always struck me as being by millionaires, for millionaires. Excited reports about ne Dallas travel for loaded executive-types, articles gushing about how traveling first class can make a flight – g, these articles, and I have two thoughts. First, I wonder how much free champagne I could chug on a first-cla about the fact that I've never traveled in such grand style, and I don't believe I personally know anyone else who has, eit

That's the weird thing about traveling for pleasure: it's inherently pretty expensive, but the variety of different price pair activities mean that two people visiting the same city could have wildly different credit card bills when they get back hon incredibly nit-picky with my spending if I want to. If I have my eye on a particular hotel, but decide to book the roach Rit night, I'll take the total savings and buy myself a short spa treatment or some nifty local specialty item. The CNN execs z lounge in the international ...

Read More

Lvl 7

By Ben Bagamery, Passionate NFL and NBA fan dedicated to making the Sidelines experience as wo... \(more\)

This one time, the lady I was dating was planning a trip to Istanbul without me - she was going to hang out v been clear on the details. When her aunt got sick and couldn't come, I decided to treat myself to a last-minu trip and see the mystical wonderland that is Istanbul.

It may have been a bit of an impulsive decision (and my wallet may have regretted it later), but it's still one of my greate afraid to treat yo' self sometimes - if you can afford it, it'll make you happy, and if it's something you'll remember fondly certainly worth it.

More from Drift Surfing

Addicted to Life – Nuit de la Glisse 2014 – Movie Trailer

A smart eco-friendly film from the ex-pro, now founder of The Green Wave, Gordon Fontaine. Fontaine has set up the UK epicentre for sustainable surf in the shape of the online store The Green Wave. This film is an excellent ... Read more...

AIRLINE

MATT CLARK

YOU MIGHT ALSO LIKE

FEATURES

Surfing Lake Tahoe

FEATURES

An unsurfed monster wave in Europe?

FEATURES

Surfing Munich's English Garden

FEATURES

Cutback To Australia

NO COMMENTS

LEAVE A REPLY

Name *

Email *

Website

CONTACT US

Email us at info@driftsportmedia.com

SEARCH...

SUBSCRIBE & FOLLOW

© 2015 Drift Surfing, All rights reserved.